

3: Free Reading Lounge

Hi, this is Toni again, at the Free Reading Lounge.

Use your cursor again to pop-up the menu behind the sign for the Free Reading Lounge. This menu has a couple of choices.

In a few seconds, I'll have you leave this tour and return after completing a task, like you did when you read "BTN in a Nutshell." Do not close this tour window. If you accidentally lose this window, look for it in your active windows bar, or you can re-start it by clicking Start Here at the frontdesk.

Find Free Short Course on the Reading Lounge menu. You can read about this exceptional free service, and if you would like to receive the Short Course that is currently being offered, just fill in the necessary information in the opt-in form, and submit it.

You can do this now: just click pause, and click play again, when you are finished.

(pause)

Okay, you're back. You're getting the hang of this now. You'll really appreciate the Short Course you receive by e-mail. Some people join BEingThere.net just so they can have access to the previous Short Courses.

Now click on the second menu item under Free Reading Lounge, the Free Consciousness Lesson. Every two weeks you'll find a new lesson here. Members of course, are receiving consciousness lessons on-going.

I'm going to close this section of the tour to allow you enough time to read the introduction, and then sign-in and read the current report. It is only a sample of the quality of information you can access through your membership in BEingThere.net.

When you finish there, you can resume this tour with Section 4: The Affiliate Kiosk.
